Testimonial from David Brackman of Self Defense ATL
January 29, 2009

It has been a pleasure to deal with Gill Media. They took a guy like me, who knew nothing about website marketing and implemented a successful strategy of Search Engine Optimization, linking and blogging, to raise the popularity of my website and increase my online business.

Gill Media has handled my account with excellent customer service and ongoing reporting, measurement, and analysis...I couldn't have asked for better. Also, George Gill himself visited me in Atlanta to ensure my complete understanding of our direction; I really appreciate this time spent with me! They seem to be genuinely interested in helping me grow my business.

The page visits are increasing monthly and so are my online orders! Gill Media made their services available at an affordable monthly rate which is already paying for itself. Gill Media is a reputable, trust-worthy company that earns their money every month.

If you are looking for a professional website marketing company and are committed to growing your business using the powerful tool of the Internet, Gill Media represents an excellent value; I highly recommend this team.

Sincerely,

David Brackman
